THE WOUNDED MAN.

Ben Jennings Still Lives and May Get Well.

There were some slight errors in the reports of the shooting scrape at Wilkerson's distillery in Saturday's papers. For instance it was reported that Wilkerson, the proprietor, asked Jennings, the employee, for another pint of whiskey. This was just the reverse. It was Jennings who asked for the whiskey, and Jennings who called Wilkerson a liar. However, the other facts as stated, were as near correct as they can be obtained.

Henry Heath, brother-in-law of Jennings, and the only witness to the shooting, was seen by a Telegram man yesterday, but declined to make any further statement, adding that he had made as nearly a correct report as it was possible to make, to Chief of Police Scott and Deputy Sheriff Weatherly. That statement was, in substance, printed in Saturday's Telegram. Heath claims that Wilkerson and Jennings are still good friends, that they are both high tempered, and that they had both been drinking there would have been no trouble.

We asked Heath if there had been any previous difficulty between them and he said there had been none that he knew of. That only a few moments before the shooting they were laughing and talking, and Jennings in the most friendly manner, and that the trouble seemed to begin when Wilkerson remarked with Jennings about drinking, telling that was the fourth pint he had had since the last night, whereupon Jennings called Wilkerson a liar. Wilkerson, being under the influence of whiskey himself, was fired at this, and that, Mr. Heath says, was the beginning of the trouble, so far as he was able to see.

Wilkerson is in jail awaiting a preliminary examination before a justice of the peace. A Telegram man went out to see Jennings, the wounded man, yesterday afternoon, and found him, to all outward appearances, looking like he will get well. Dr. Armfield is attending him, instead of the county physician, as stated Saturday. It is reported today that he is getting along fairly well and the doctor has hopes of his recovery.

Just before going to press we learn that Jennings' condition is not so favorable today. Wilkerson will probably have a preliminary hearing this afternoon.

CULD NOT INTERFERE.

Judge Coble Dismisses Writ of Habeas Corpus.

Winston, N. C., Sept. 30.—On September 30, John Sutton was arrested for illicit distilling in Haywood county, and bound over to court in the sum of $300. District Attorney Holton wired the commissioner to increase the bond to one thousand. The commissioner increased it to two thousand. The reason for increase of bond was because Sutton was charged with killing Sheriff Dawson, of Tennessee, while the latter was assisting a revenue officer in cutting up Sutton's distillery. District Attorney Holton received a telegram today stating that while in Haywood county for habeas corpus, alleging that his bond was excessive. The judge, after hearing the case, discharged the writ and remanded the prisoner, upon the ground that a judge of a state court has no authority to interfere in behalf of an United States prisoner.

The old tobacco year closed today. Winston sold over eighteen million pounds of leaf during the year and shipped 16,639,942 pounds of manufactured tobacco. Revenue stamp sales aggregated $1,006,738. These figures are considerably larger than for the previous year.

Pie most Springs Hotel has been sold for eight thousand dollars. The name of the purchaser is not given.

Gabriel to Blow His Horn.

A worthy old colored woman, and by the way, a most excellent cook, was asked by a lady recently if she could engage her services for the winter. The reply was: "Until then dark days come, missis. They is coming the first of next year and last time the sun and the moon and the stars ain't gwine to shine and the judgment is gwine to come." It is said that this superstition is more or less general among some of the colored people. Being a race of vivid imaginations, no doubt some of them fully expect Gabriel to blow his horn and the collapse of the universe to take place at the end of the days of darkness.

Some Old Epitaphs.

"Here lies, thank God, a woman who quarrelled and stormed her whole life through; Tread gently over her smouldering form, Or else you'll raise another storm."

"Here lies Parker Hall, and what is more rare, bred and hanged in St. Thomas's parish."

"Here lies John Hill, a man of skill, His age was five times ten; He never did good, nor never would, Had he lived as long again."

"Here lies Lord Coningsby; be civil: The rest God knows, and perhaps the devil."

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. New York, Oct. 2.—The First Georgia left this morning at 3:15 over the Pennsylvania railroad.

IMPOSSIBLE BEFORE XMAS

For the British Invasion of the Transvaal

THEN AN ARMY OF 50,000 TROOPS

Will Go For the Boers—Severe Criticism of the Management of the London War Office.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM. London, Oct. 2.—It is learned upon the highest authority that the British campaign, in the event of war, will first avoid hostilities, if possible, holding the frontier posts against the Boers until December, when the full British force of 50,000 will begin the advance into the Transvaal. If the fighting begins immediately the war office expects to hear of Boer successes, as they outnumber the British three to one. The invasion of the Transvaal before Christmas is impossible. Meanwhile, the Boer raids in Cape Colony and Natal are unavoidable.

HAS A FIGHT OCCURRED?

London, Oct. 2.—No messages from the Transvaal were received here yesterday, while the Cape and Natal are districts where the Boers have massed. Government thinks it possible that a fight has occurred. It is believed that Joubert with seven thousand troops is encamped within eight miles of the border.

The Pall Mall Gazette's special from Johannesburg states that the British position is critical and that the mismanagement of the war office is obvious. Unless strong reinforcements are sent the Boers are certainly open to the invasion of Cape Colony, where there are only two battalions of British troops.

NEGRO STABBED

At High Point—Blind Tigers in the Manufacturing City.

Special to THE TELEGRAM. High Point, N. C., Oct. 2.—Yesterday afternoon a crowd of darkies congregated at a house on Beaulieu row. This house seems to have had an attraction about it for some time, as it has been whispered that the "recking red" could be obtained there.

Among the fry that went there yesterday afternoon were Fred Adams, Rob Morton and Cicero DeLoop, all colored. They were not there very long before a scuffle took place. DeLoop was stabbed once or twice in the back with a knife in the hands of Adams. Morton was also implicated in the trouble. The negro who was stabbed went to Chief of Police Bennett and told him all about the scuffle. In the meantime Adams had skipped and up to this time had not been captured. Morton was caught and placed in the toms over night. He was arraigned for trial this morning and turned loose on the payment of $500. Cicero DeLoop, the negro who was stabbed, gave the "whole thing" away and implicated the colored man at whose house the row occurred, for retailing liquor, whom was also tried this morning and bound over to court, but at this writing the bond has not been given.

We are told that one or two other "blind tiger" cases are on docket.

FEDERAL COURT THIS WEEK

Judge Ewart Will Arrive Tonight and Open Court Tomorrow.

The meeting of federal court always brings unique characters to town. For instance, an old fellow from Stokes called at the Telegram office this morning, and with a look of bewilderment and surprise said: "When I used to come to Greensboro I could come down here and get a nip. Do you do that way now?" The office is in the rooms under the McAdoo where there was a barroom several years ago.

We promptly told our Stokes friend that we didn't "do that way now." He was more astonished than ever, and asked: "Why?"

We explained that the dispensary was the only place in town which "does that way," and that we were engaged in the business of printing a newspaper. He looked like he had heard of such business somewhere, and he asked us to let him know where he could get a drink. All we could do was to direct him to the dispensary and bid him good morning. It was a mystery to him.

Well, there are others in town, whom, we suspect, have an ample supply with them without patronizing the dispensary.

Federal court will open properly tomorrow. Judge Ewart arriving tonight from Asheville. Many of the blockading contingent, and their wives, are already here, and by tomorrow morning it will look like federal court.

Naval Changes.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. Washington, Oct. 2.—Secretary Long has assigned Capt. Barker to the command of the Norfolk navy yard, and Rear Admiral Farquhar takes command of the North Atlantic squadron.

Engineer Killed.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM. Plainfield, N. J., Oct. 2.—A coal train on the Lehigh Valley ran into a stalled freight at New Market this morning. Engineer McGinn was killed.

"Is the professed recognized here?" queried the ready actor as he presented himself at the box office. "It certainly is," replied the ticket expert promptly, "but you needn't worry. The secret is safe with us."

WASHINGTON ON A SWELL.

Waiting for the Arrival of the Popular Hero.

NORTH CAROLINA REPRESENTED

Much Ado at the National Capital Over the Coming to That City of Admiral Geo. Dewey.

Special to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Oct. 2.—Governor Tyler, of Virginia, and staff, arrived in Washington on the train from Richmond this afternoon. Among other state executives here are Governor Powers, of Maine, Governor Smith, Vermont, Roosevelt, of New York, and many others.

Everything is in readiness for the reception to Admiral Dewey. The crowd is here, and all that is needed is the arrival of Dewey himself, with the escort committee. The committee, as announced heretofore, left Washington over the Pennsylvania line this morning at 7:10. The train carrying the committee was tendered by the Pennsylvania line, and is one of the handsomest ever used for purposes of this kind. The committee are expected to return with the popular hero by 6:50. The arrival of Dewey will be announced by the admiral's salute from the navy yard. Before the train arrives in the city, announcement will be made of its approach from the nearest telegraph station to Washington, and when it rolls into the city it will be greeted by ring of bells, chiming and ringing of cannon, blowing of steam whistles, etc. The entire city will be illuminated in his honor, and unlighted red light will greet the eyes of the hero as he steps out of the Pennsylvania station to take his carriage for the white house. As stated the other day, the admiral will be escorted to the white house in advance of the parade, will not start until the party reaches the executive mansion.

There is a great crowd in Washington today, and the trains are loaded with many more, who will not arrive until late in the afternoon. A large contingent are coming from North Carolina, points in Virginia and Maryland. All business will be suspended in Washington from six o'clock tonight till Wednesday morning.

The crowds began to arrive in Washington before midnight Saturday, and kept arriving all day Sunday. The scenes in front of the railroad stations and hotels Sunday, were more like a week day than a Sabbath. Vendors selling Dewey badges, Dewey pictures and Dewey emblems, are in evidence now, and are not disturbed by the police in plying their trade.

The police regulations for handling the crowds tonight during the procession are admirable. No one will be allowed to cross the avenue without special permission, or unless presenting a badge given to the possessor to cross the street after 6:30 p. m. The street cars are to be stopped nearly an hour before the parade starts from the foot of the capitol. Ropes are to be stretched along the entire avenue and line of march, and no one will be allowed to stand upon boxes, or to have chairs or camp stools on the side walk, so as to obstruct the view of those who are in the rear. Police ambulances will be stationed at convenient distances along the line of march, to be used in case of sickness or accident. Precautions have been taken to prevent accidents from fireworks, and no trouble of this kind is apprehended by the authorities. No horse will be allowed near the line of march, excepting those who are not afraid of fireworks, and all vehicles will be obliged to go around the side streets, away from the crowd along the line of the procession.

The police officials say that very few crooks will be in Washington. The police have taken every precaution to keep out crooks of this sort, and they do not think many will find their way into the city without being captured by the police. The authorities have marked all suspicious personages, and have done their best to keep out suspicious strangers.

Pennsylvania avenue has been gaily decorated for the parade tonight, many of the decorations being the most handsome ever seen at the national capital, excelling those of inauguration occasions. The postoffice building is decorated with flags and bunting and presents a handsome appearance. The capitol building tonight will be illuminated, as will the entire line of march. No stands have been erected along the avenue, excepting those authorized by the District authorities, merchants being prohibited from erecting stands on the sidewalk, which heretofore has been a source of annoyance to crowds who swarm the streets on such occasions. The stand in front of the treasury department is handsomely decorated, as is also, of course, the official grandstand at the executive mansion.

A feature of the programme tonight will be the passing of the citizens in review before Admiral Dewey and the President. Everyone is requested to carry a flag, or emblem of some kind, and to wave same as they pass the admiral. It is anticipated that at least 75,000 persons will pass in front of the executive mansion tonight. Precautions have been taken for handling this vast number of persons, and to prevent panic or disorder.

ADMITS STRONG OPPOSITION.

Col Carr in the Race for the United States Senator.

The Richmond Times of Saturday prints the following interview with Col. Julian S. Carr, who was in that city Friday attending the burial of Gen. Harry Heath:

"Yes, I am a candidate for the Senate to succeed Butler, and am in the race to win," said Colonel Julian S. Carr, of North Carolina at the Jefferson last night. "I have some fine men against me," he continued, "there's F. M. Simmons, chairman of our state democratic committee, and a thorough-going astute politician; ex-Governor Jarvis, twice governor of North Carolina, and a former congressman, and Mayor A. M. Waddell, of Wilmington, who has also served in congress, and whose part in the late troubles gave him a good place in the hearts of the white people."

"If I win, I shall feel that I have been greatly complimented, for all of the other aspirants are high-toned, Christian gentlemen, who stand well with the people. "Our campaign will not be characterized by a display of acrimonious feeling—certainly so far as I am concerned. My opponents are my personal friends."

Colonel Carr felt confident that he could win in a contest before the people, but he was not so sure the opportunity would express itself for such an expression of the popular will.

HIS OPINION OF MARTIN. Speaking of the campaign in Virginia, the distinguished North Carolinian said: "I haven't the honor of an acquaintance with Governor Tyler, but I have met Senator Martin, whom I consider the best politician in your state. I go Washington occasionally, and in making inquiries I naturally prefer to seek democratic sources. Both senators from North Carolina, you know, represent opposition parties. Senator Butler is a populist and Senator Pritchard is a republican. What information I may want I get from Senator Martin. I find him well posted on North Carolina affairs, as he is on the affairs of his own state. He is a great worker, and one of the best men your state has recently had is the senator."

NO COTTON MILL COMBINE.

Colonel Carr took no stock in the reported effort to combine the cotton mill interests of the South. He said: "The mills are paying such handsome dividends that a syndicate cannot offer enough to induce stockholders to give up a good thing. I have stock in eleven cotton mills myself, and every one of them is paying well. No, the effort, if it is made, will not succeed."

LIVED ON THE BEST.

Aguinado's Prisoners Fared Sumptuously. Manila, Saturday, Sept. 30.—Fourteen American prisoners, in charge of Filipino General Alejandro and two other Filipino officers, entered the American lines this morning at Angeles under a flag of truce. All of the officers on the staffs of Generals McArthur, Wheeler and Wheaton escorted the party to the railroad depot, where they boarded the train for Manila. The train stopped at San Fernando, where the American and Filipino commissioners dined. The Americans, who had been held prisoners, were well dressed in light blue Filipino uniform, with canvas shoes and hats. They were well and hearty. The prisoners stated that they at first only received rice, but on objection, later received coffee, hot rolls, chicken, pork, vegetables and wine. They received an allowance of twenty cents a day for tobacco and luxuries. There was a feast at Tarlac September 17th, and Aguinado gave each prisoner four dollars. Each man received $3.50 additional when they reached Macabalan. They were not required to work.

The party started for the American lines Thursday, but were driven back by the American attack on Porac. None of the released prisoners was captured in battle. A majority of them were taken prisoners while on picket duty or while straying outside the lines. As a matter of fact, several of the men are supposed to be deserters. They say the Filipinos intend to surrender twenty-five more prisoners next Tuesday. Lieutenant Gilmore and his boat's crew are still held at Negros. An surrendered prisoner is a Negro, formerly servant to officers of the Sixteenth Infantry. He had been made much of by Aguinado and was commissioned a lieutenant in the insurgent army. The Americans specially requested the negro's surrender. On the way to Angeles the prisoners met four other prisoners from the captured gunboats Urdaneta, two hospital corps men and two signal men who were also prisoners.

HERTFORD JAIL BROKEN OPEN.

A Mob Gets In and Shoots Robert Vaughan to Death.

Raleigh, Sept. 30.—A special to The News and Observer from Winston, N. C., says: Masked parties broke into the county jail at Winston, Hertford county, last night, and shot Robert Vaughan, under suspicion of barn burning. The doors were broken down and the prisoner was shot at least three times. He was committed several weeks ago by a justice of the peace under circumstantial evidence. The prisoner was in an iron cell. The act is greatly deplored. Vaughan will probably die.

By Cable to THE TELEGRAM.

Paris, Oct. 2.—The Figaro says that Queen Wilhelmina is going to Berlin to interview the Kaiser and to try to induce him to initiate a movement of mediation between Great Britain and the Transvaal.

London, Oct. 2.—Consols dropped one per cent today, and on account of war news business is almost at a standstill at the stock exchange.

MAY TAKE FLAG DOWN.

Capetown, Oct. 2.—The South African News, organ of Premier Schreiner, Cape Colony, declares that a special train left here last night to bring Cuthbert, the British agent, and staff from Pretoria. The formally hauling down of the British flag from the legation, the paper says, is imminent.

BATH IN MOLTEN METAL.

Man Sleeping in Furnace Pit Hit a Horrible Death.

Coatesville, Pa., Sept. 30.—In a bath of molten slag, Owen McVey, employed at the Lukens Iron and Steel Plant at the Lukens Iron and Steel Plant, here, was cooked to death today. A horrified group of workmen, who unconsciously had turned the fiery metal over him, saw him sizzle up almost in a moment.

McVey had been working last night, and, unknown to anyone about the works, he laid down in the empty slag pit near the opening of the furnace. He was sleeping there this morning when the day force came, and a gang of men set to work to draw the metal off.

As a thick stream of the slag ran down in the pit it almost completely covered McVey, who sprang up with an awful shriek. He was aflame from head to foot. Almost as he gained his feet he sank back dead. His remains were dragged out at once, but were unrecognizable. He was identified by his dinner kettle and the thick leather sole of one of his shoes, which had just been repaired.

MONDAY, OCT. 2, 1899.

Greensboro as a tobacco market, is a subject which no person should take up and discuss daily. The growth and development of that branch of business is fraught with great possibilities for the city's future standing and influence among other cities.

Col. J. S. Carr, of Durham, who has long been considered as a candidate for Marion Butler's seat in the United States senate, has been interviewed by the Richmond Times and he admits that he is in the race in earnest. At the same time he admits that he has formidable opposition. Col. Carr would grace any position to which his state might call him, and would honor the state in so doing.

With eyes always wide open, the Charlotte Observer has been watching the procession, and now rises to explain:

We told you so! Just as we expected! The jealous military and naval authorities succeeded in having Schley put back towards the tail end of the parade, but after Dewey, there was no man in the procession who got such an ovation. He was almost drowned in the cataclysm of roses that flooded into his carriage.

What will the Farmers' Alliance do with Marion Butler, now that has procured license to practice law? The Alliance was at one time very severe in its denunciation of professional men. Maybe it is different now. Butler has the ability to become a successful lawyer; also his sight is not so dim but that he can see the senatorship vanishing and he is getting ready for a letting down that he will retire him altogether from the public view.

Editor Caldwell, of the Charlotte Observer, has an interesting article in Sunday's paper written on shipboard enroute to Europe and mailed at Southampton. He is far away from home, among strangers, yet he writes as freely as if he were in his comfortable office in Charlotte. There is something pathetic, however, about the closing sentence of his letter, which is in the form of a sigh:

"Oh, for one copy of the Observer!"

The Telegram again desires to doff its hat to the three leading morning dailies of this state on their excellent Sunday editions. North Carolina has for years been considered behind her sister states in journalism; but that condition of things is rapidly vanishing. We have papers now the equal of any—not the equal of the World and Journal in gush, sensation and blear-eyed rot—but filled with choice, elevating, educating and helpful matter.

A special from Lynchburg to the Richmond Times contains the following interesting item:

"The gamblers arrested at the fair grounds yesterday were convicted to-day, and fines and imprisonment imposed, but the sentences were suspended as to the imprisonment in all the cases."

They were lucky to escape the imprisonment feature of the business; but in Greensboro recently a number of men arrested for gambling were let off on the payment of costs at reduced rates.

Next!

The take cotton report which spread over the south last Friday is liable to make trouble somewhere. The excitement caused heavy buying in some places, and the results, if the sales are allowed to stand, may prove disastrous. It is hoped the parties who are responsible for the reports being spread over the wires will be found and severe punishment inflicted. It is said that the wires were tapped somewhere between Augusta and Savannah, and the devilment done. The Western Union claims to be doing all in its power to fix the responsibility.

Discovered by a Woman

Another great discovery has been made, and that too, by a lady in this country. Disease fastened its clutches upon her and for seven years she withstood its severest tests, but her vital organs were undermined and death seemed imminent. For three months she coughed incessantly, and could not sleep. She finally discovered a way to recovery by purchasing of us a bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, and was so much relieved on taking first dose that she slept all night and with two bottles has been absolutely cured. Her name is Mrs. Luther Lutz, of Shelby, N. C. Trial bottles free at C. E. Holton's drug store. Regular size 50 cents and $1.00. Every bottle guaranteed.

N. C. DEVELOPMENT.

Brief Record of the New Enterprises Just Incorporated.

E. F. Thomas of Milwaukee, Wis., and W. B. Council of Boone, will develop copper mines at Elk Knob. E. R. Cannon of Mt. Holly, N. P. Cannon of Charlotte, J. D. Broomfield of Gastonia and others have incorporated the Charlotte Casket Co., with a capital stock of $30,000, for the manufacture of caskets and undertakers' material generally; building will be two stories, 60x100 feet.

The report given last week that the Erwin Cotton Mills Co., of Durham, N. C., had purchased additional lands in Chatham county and decided to build a $250,000 cotton mill was incorrect. The company has made no additional purchases nor reached any definite decision as to the proposed cotton factory or water development.

At Coleridge the Enterprise Manufacturing Co. is erecting an addition 33x50 feet to its building.

At Concord the Gibson Mill will be incorporated to erect a cotton factory with J. W. Cannon president, and R. E. Gibson, secretary-treasurer, and capital stock of $100,000, all subscribed.

J. T. Wyatt has discovered a gold mine near Faith, and will develop it. The Fayetteville Ice & Manufacturing Co. has been incorporated, with a capital stock of $25,000.

The Scott-Mebane Manufacturing Co. has erected a new factory building 75x130 feet.

At Greensboro a company has been organized for the establishment of a new manufacturing plant.

J. M. Odell, of Concord, N. C., and associates have purchased additional lands on the Catawba river to further proposed water power and other developments.

At Hilton the North Carolina Cotton Oil Co. has installed new machinery and made other improvements to its plant.

At Kinston E. M. Hodge will install machinery for the manufacture of spokes, handles, rims, etc.

At Lexington Peacock & Adderton will form a company for the establishment of a plant to manufacture wood plows and wagon hames.

The Monroe Oil & Fertilizer Co. contemplates adding an ice factory.

At Newton the $25,000 company, for the establishment of a cotton mill, has completed building and by December 1 will have in operation 2,000 spindles; company has incorporated as the Catawba cotton mill, with capital stock of $25,000 to $100,000.

The Newton Hosiery Mill contemplates adding additional machinery about January, 1900; is installing at present ten new machines.

The Neuse River Mills, reported recently as to incorporate, has obtained charter, the incorporators being C. G. Latta, R. H. Battle, J. A. Jones, Jos. G. Brown, E. H. Lee, W. W. Vass and Van R. Moore. The capital stock is $100,000, with privilege to increase to $500,000. The company has 121 acres of land and riparian rights at the falls of Neuse, near Raleigh, and will develop water power.

The Central Electric Co. has secured riparian rights on Main Broad river near Shelby, where it will develop water power and erect an electric plant to transmit its towns within a radius of thirty miles. Cotton mills at Shelby, Gaffney, King's Mountain, Gastonia and Cherryville have signed contracts to buy power from the company.

At Statesville the Carolina Harrow Co. has been incorporated with an authorized capital of $25,000, for the manufacture of the harrow invented by J. H. Brown, of Detroit, Mich.; company will begin business at once in Overcash Bros' building.

Witty Contempt of Court.

Detroit used to have a lawyer who was shrewd enough to show contempt of court without incurring danger of the penalty that would have been visited upon an offender less diplomatic. He was at one time being heard in an important matter before the Supreme Court, and made an assertion which elicited from one of the judges: "That is not the law, sir."

"Pardon me, your Honor," with a deferential bow, "it was the law until a minute ago. Now we accept a new principle established by a supreme authority."

On another occasion he was reading from an imposing looking book in support of a position that he had taken upon a legal question.

"Just a moment," interrupted the Supreme Justice himself; "do you mean to say that you are reading good law?"

"Not at all, Your Honor; only Supreme Court decisions."

The most cutting thing he ever said to this same court was during the consideration of a desperate case in which he had not a leg to stand upon. He made a bold contention which was fallacious but plausible from beginning to end.

"Blank," said the Court, severely, "I would not try to convert the average Justice of the Peace with such an argument as that."

"Nor I," was the quick response, "but I had what was considered reliable information that none of the honorable members of this honorable court had ever served in that capacity."

"You have practiced before me for years, Blank," said a Circuit Judge at one time, "and this is the first time you have shown contempt."

"Yes, your Honor," answered Blank, "I have wonderful self-control."

President King, Farmers' Bank, Brooklyn, Mich., has used DeWitt's Little Early Risers in his family for years. Says they are the best. These famous little pills cure constipation, biliousness and all liver and bowel troubles. Howard Gardner.

Time flies, but a bandmaster can beat it.

"If you scour the world you will never find a remedy equal to One Minute Cough Cure," says Editor Packler, of the Micanopy, Fla., "Hustler." It cured his family of LaGrippe and saved thousands from pneumonia, bronchitis, croup and all throat and lung troubles. Howard Gardner.

THE EVENING PAPERS.

Better Than Morning For Advertising Purposes.

Here is what Harry E. Matthews, advertising manager of the Harris-Emery Company, the largest department store in Iowa, says:

"With equal circulation I would prefer the evening to the morning paper. The morning paper reaches the reader at a time when the head of the house either reads it hurriedly before breakfast, at the breakfast table, or on his road to his office. In the latter case the housewife does not see the paper at all. If the paper is left at home, it is an hour when the housekeeper is confronted with her regular duties, social calls, etc. The evening paper reaches the family at a time when the day's rush is over and the heads of the family can read at leisure the offers of the advertising columns and discuss their household needs and plans for supplying them. I would, therefore, choose of two papers, one a morning and the other an evening, the evening edition. This conclusion is reached from an experience covering fifteen years of active advertising experience and the placing of advertising appropriations that run up into the hundreds of thousands."

A Wonderful Cure of Diarrhoea.

A prominent Virginia editor had almost given up, but was brought back to perfect health by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. Read his editorial. From the Times, Hillsville, Va.

I suffered with diarrhoea for a long time and thought I was past being cured. I had spent much time and money and suffered so much misery that I had almost decided to give up all hopes of recovery and await the result, but noticing the advertisement of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and also some testimonials stating how some wonderful cures had been wrought by this remedy, I decided to try it. After taking a few doses I was entirely well of that trouble, and I wish to say further to my readers and fellow-sufferers that I am a hale and hearty man today and feel as well as I ever did in my life.—J. R. Moore, Sold by C. E. Holton.

CAPTAIN CARTER ARRESTED.

Placed in Close Confinement on Governor's Island.

New York, Sept. 30.—Captain Oberlin M. Carter was arrested early today in this city by Assistant Adjutant-General Simpson, who came on specially from Washington for the purpose. Captain Carter was taken to Governor's Island and handed over to Captain B. B. Roberts, the commanding officer, with orders to keep strict guard and put him in close confinement. Captain Carter is now in one of the upper casement cells in Castle William. L. L. Kellogg, of the law firm of Kellogg, Rose & Smith, called upon Captain Roberts and asked permission to see Captain Carter.

After his visit to Captain Carter, Mr. Kellogg said the prisoner was terribly dejected and seemed to realize that there was no appeal from the sentence. Captain Roberts, in speaking of the arrest, said: "It was the hardest duty ever allotted to me as an officer in the army to place Captain Carter under arrest and have him placed in close confinement. He was a classmate of my brother's, and as such became friendly with the members of my family. Of course duty is duty and we have to obey orders."

AMERICAN PRISONERS

In Filipino Hands Being Carried to Manila to Exchange.

Manila, Sept. 30.—Fourteen American prisoners in charge of General Alejandro and two Filipino mayors reached Angeles this morning on the way to Manila, where the Filipino officers desire an interview with General Oles.

They report that Toggel has been arrested at Virayan, the rebel general charging him with being a traitor. They said that discord is growing, many rebel soldiers having revolted in consequence of which several European prisoners escaped.

Talk is said to be cheap, yet the heater and range man asks a pretty good sum for giving people a line of hot air.

You assume no risk when you buy Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. C. E. Holton will refund your money if you are not satisfied after using it. It is every where admitted to be the most successful remedy in use for bowel complaint and the only one that never fails. It is pleasant, safe and reliable.

"An agnostic," says the Manyunk Philosopher, "is a fellow who wants people to answer his questions but never to question his answers."

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

"How the trees groan!" exclaimed the romantic maid as the wind swept through the orchard. "No wonder," chimed in the practical youth, "they're full of green apples, you know."

No Cure—No Pay.

That is the way all druggists sell Grove's Tasteless Chill Tonic for Chills and Malaria. It is simply iron and quinine in a tasteless form. Children love it. Adults prefer it to bitter, nauseating tonics. Price, 50c.

Little Pimples Turn to Cancer.

Cancer often results from an impurity in the blood, inherited from generations back. Few people are entirely free from some taint in the blood, and it is impossible to tell when it will break out in the form of dreaded Cancer. What has appeared to be a mere pimple or scratch has developed into the most malignant Cancer.

"I had a severe Cancer which was at first only a few blotches, that I thought would soon pass away. I was treated by several able physicians, but in spite of their efforts the Cancer continued until my condition became alarming. After many months of treatment and growing steadily worse, I decided to try S. S. S., which was so strongly recommended. The first bottle produced an immediate cure. I continued the medicine, and in four months the last little seed dropped off. Ten years have elapsed, and not a sign of the disease has returned."

R. F. Williams, Guilford, Miss.

It is dangerous to experiment with Cancer. The disease is beyond the skill of physicians. S. S. S. is the only cure, because it is the only remedy which goes deep enough to reach Cancer.

Want Dewey in Atlanta.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 30.—During the reception to Admiral Dewey next week a committee from the Chamber of Commerce, the municipal Council and the Business Men's League of Atlanta, will present him with a formal invitation on behalf of the city and the south to be here at the same time Lieutenant Brumby, who is a Georgian, comes on a visit to his family and relations.

Rear-Admiral Schley has already accepted an invitation to come, and an effort will be made to have the three naval heroes here at the same time.

INDIGESTION

Cured by Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure
"I suffered over two years with indigestion and nervous dyspepsia, unable to eat or sleep. I tried several physicians and different remedies, but they only helped me for a short time. A friend advised me to take Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure, but they only helped me for a short time. I am feeling better than I have for two years. Have a good appetite, sleep well and have none of the symptoms of indigestion or dyspepsia, while I have gained ten pounds in weight within a couple of months. I am taking pleasure in recommending Johnson's Dyspepsia Cure wherever I can, and several of my friends are taking it with marked results."—L. A. Arnold, Clin.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Howard Gardner's ad about mud appears today. Read it.

J. A. Cannaday advertises a nice six-room cottage for rent on Carr street.

Mr. Norvin Lindheim left last night to resume his studies at Johns Hopkins University.

All through trains today are crowded with people going to Washington to attend the Dewey reception.

The Benbow hotel property is now listed with the Southern Loan and Trust Company, for sale. Lee ad.

Ross & Bond, the sign painters, have moved into new quarters at 1084 West Market. See change in ad today.

There was a big frost this morning and all tender vegetation felt severely. Potato vines and late tobacco show it plainly.

A phone message from Winston says that Mrs. F. T. White died yesterday, aged 38 years. She leaves a husband and five children.

A gentleman from the west side of town spent most of the day Saturday hunting a carpenter to do some work. That looks like people are busy.

People are still moving to Greensboro from other places and locating in the vicinity of the State Normal and Industrial College for the education of their daughters.

At the Banner warehouse on Friday night of this week the Gate City band will give an oyster supper and band concert for the purpose of adding to the fund for the purchase of new instruments. Keep it in mind and don't have any "previous engagements."

The Telegram goes into and is read in many hundred homes in Greensboro and out of Greensboro. If you are in business and want the people in many hundred homes to read about it, advertise in the Telegram. We have space to sell, and the price is all right.

Chief of Police Scott has received a postal card from a man in Raleigh who wants to know if there are any painters here who want work. Is that a reflection on any of our Greensboro painters? If not, why did the fellow suppose the chief would know more about them than some one else?

The Hunter Manufacturing and Commission Company have orders a long way ahead. They turned down an order today for 250 dozen pair overalls because of inability to reach it before the latter part of the winter. They are running full capacity and want more help. See their ad in this paper, for young ladies.

Have you got a dog? If so, you had better look out for him and have him tagged. The officers are after them again. We are informed that most of the white people have complied with the law in this respect, but that a number of colored people have three or four dogs and have not paid a cent of tax. Chief Scott says this tax must be paid, or the dog's life will pay the penalty.

THE NEW BANK OPENS.

Greensboro Loan and Trust Co. Now Doing Business.

This afternoon a Telegram man called at the new banking office of the Greensboro Loan and Trust Co., and found Cashier Allen and Bookkeeper Smith at their post. The bank opened for business this morning and Mr. G. O. Coble was the first depositor, but not the only one. Up to 2 o'clock several had called and placed their earnings in the hands of this new candidate for public favor and trust.

We have before commented on the excellent officials, and it would be superfluous to repeat it here. Mr. W. T. Smith, the bookkeeper, has for nearly eight years, been with J. W. Scott & Co., and is a most faithful and competent man. By the way, Mr. Scott is acquiring a reputation for making bankers out of young men. Messrs. Alderman, Sherwood, and Rhinehart, of the Greensboro National Bank, began business with J. W. Scott & Co., and Mr. Smith makes the fourth who has left there to engage in the banking business.

THE BENBOW MATTER.

Mr. Jordan Says His Firm Has Not Had Justice.

An article in the Telegram a few days ago said something about the reported sale of the Benbow Hotel property, which Mr. Jordan, of the firm of Jordan & MacDonald, says, did his firm an injustice. The writer had no such intentions, but we had not been apprised of all the facts.

Mr. Jordan says the trade, on their part, was bona fide, and from his statement to us, they have a stronger case than would appear to one on the outside. But we have never questioned their sincerity in trying to sell and have the hotel rebuilt. The point we were making in the article referred to was that it was unjust to Greensboro to imply that the delay was due to "unprogressiveness."

Brighter Than the Sun.

A railroad man is authority for the following: Just before the electric headlights were put on the Southern passenger locomotives an important piece of machinery was lost on the track between stations from one of the engines. The engineers were instructed to keep a lookout for it. One night an engineer with an electric headlight on his engine discovered the missing piece. Nothing was said about it not being seen in the daytime.

The Thomas G. Plant line of ladies' shoes, made in Boston, and the Cahill line, made in Cincinnati, are among the very best in the land—up-to-date in style, good fitting and having excellent wearing qualities. We sell both lines at $2.50, and fully guarantee every pair sold.

BOLD ROBBERIES.

Held Up Saturday Night—Pair of Shoes Stolen.

Mr. F. M. Rogers, of Newmarket, W. Va., was in town Saturday night and while passing along Bragg street between Arlington and South E'm, he was accosted by two negroes, one of them asking for a chew of tobacco.

He put his hand into his pocket to accommodate the negro, whereupon one of them slapped his hand over his mouth, the other grabbing him by the legs and throwing him. They proceeded to "roll" him, taking from his pocket $7.55 in change. They will probably kick themselves when they learn that on his inside pocket Mr. Rogers carried a cool $200.00 in bills. The negroes are unknown to the police, and there is little clue on which to work. Mr. Rogers went north on one of the night trains. The robbery occurred just about dark.

A little later two negroes entered Johnson & Dorsett's store and asked to see some women's shoes. Mr. C. C. Johnson waited on them. A $2 pair was shown, but the spokesman wanted a finer pair. The pair shown was left on the counter and a few steps taken to where the higher-priced shoes were kept. The negro in the rear slipped the $2 shoes under his coat, closed up the box and dashed out at the door.

As Mr. Johnson reached the sidewalk the negro turned the corner at Spence street and has not been seen since. The other negro claimed not to know him, and pretty soon went off in the direction the thief had taken. The officers have two warrants for the negro who was left behind, and if he is caught he may be induced to tell who the shoe thief is.

ROBBING THE KING PROPERTY.

The Chief of Police Have the Names of Several of the Boys.

Since the closing up several months ago of the King tobacco factory on Buchanan street, there has been stored there a lot of tobacco, cigars, and other goods. For some time, smoking tobacco and cigars have been disappearing and the Chief of Police has been quietly making investigations. As a result he has the names of forty-one small boys who have been doing the robbing.

Up to date there has disappeared thirteen boxes of cigars, a lot of smoking tobacco and a lot of brass oil of the machinery in the factory. A lot of silverware which was stored there is also missing.

Mr. Scott says the boys are very small, two small to prosecute, and that if the stuff is returned there may be no trouble. Both white and colored boys are into it.

Married Yesterday and Buying Furniture Today.

Mr. and Mrs. L. Wagoner, of Elon College, are in town today buying furniture and other goods preparatory to going to housekeeping. They were married yesterday and the bride was a Miss Hughes. Mr. Wagoner, we are informed, is a merchant, conducting business at Ososope mills.

While in the city they are stopping at the Allen. They have bought a bill of household furniture from McDuffie, the big furniture dealer, and will lay in other household goods. This is business.

Painful Accident.

As Mr. W. C. Bain was preparing to leave for Pinchurst today he happened to a painful accident at the depot. In reaching for his grip, which was sitting inside the waiting room, he placed his left hand on the door facing and did not notice the door, which has heavy springs on it, was shutting. The third finger was caught and badly mashed, breaking the bone. It is a mystery how the other fingers escaped. Dr. Stamey dressed the injury and Mr. Bain, though suffering a good deal of pain, went on his journey.
